

STAR QUALITY MANAGEMENT

In a world where fresh talent is being discovered and cultivated daily, the time and need for an innovative up to date talent agency has arrived and its name is Star Quality Management. The Birth child of Local celebrities Zinzi Zungu and Miranda Ntshangase, the agency aims to bring you a fresh outlook on talent. Star Quality represents children, teens and adults for television films commercials, voice overs and theatre. One of the objectives of SQ is to nurture their own talent, thus the two ladies have established the SQ actors workshop, which gives training to aspiring artists. "Times have changed and so must the way we do business" Incorporating their love and experience for the entertainment industry, it is no wonder that these two ladies live by this aphorism "redefining the art of artist management". What sets this boutique actor's agency apart is their hands on approach and individual attention to their artists, so that their actors can concentrate on what they do best which is show casing their "Star Quality".
